A Foreword

Our yesterdays are memories, vivid and gay, or murky and gray. A maze of classrooms in which we stagnated, vibrated, were stimulated or mentally accelerated!

Our today is a realization. We have achieved, we hope with honor. At least we are sure it has been with rebuffs, with toil, with much grubbing in the educational soil.

But Tomorrow—and Tomorrow!

The world of Tomorrow is ours. Youth, enthusiasm, visionary ideals, practical common sense, strength and a desire to do, a yearning to try our hand—these are ours.

World of Tomorrow, we lift our glasses high. May we mould you to your liking!

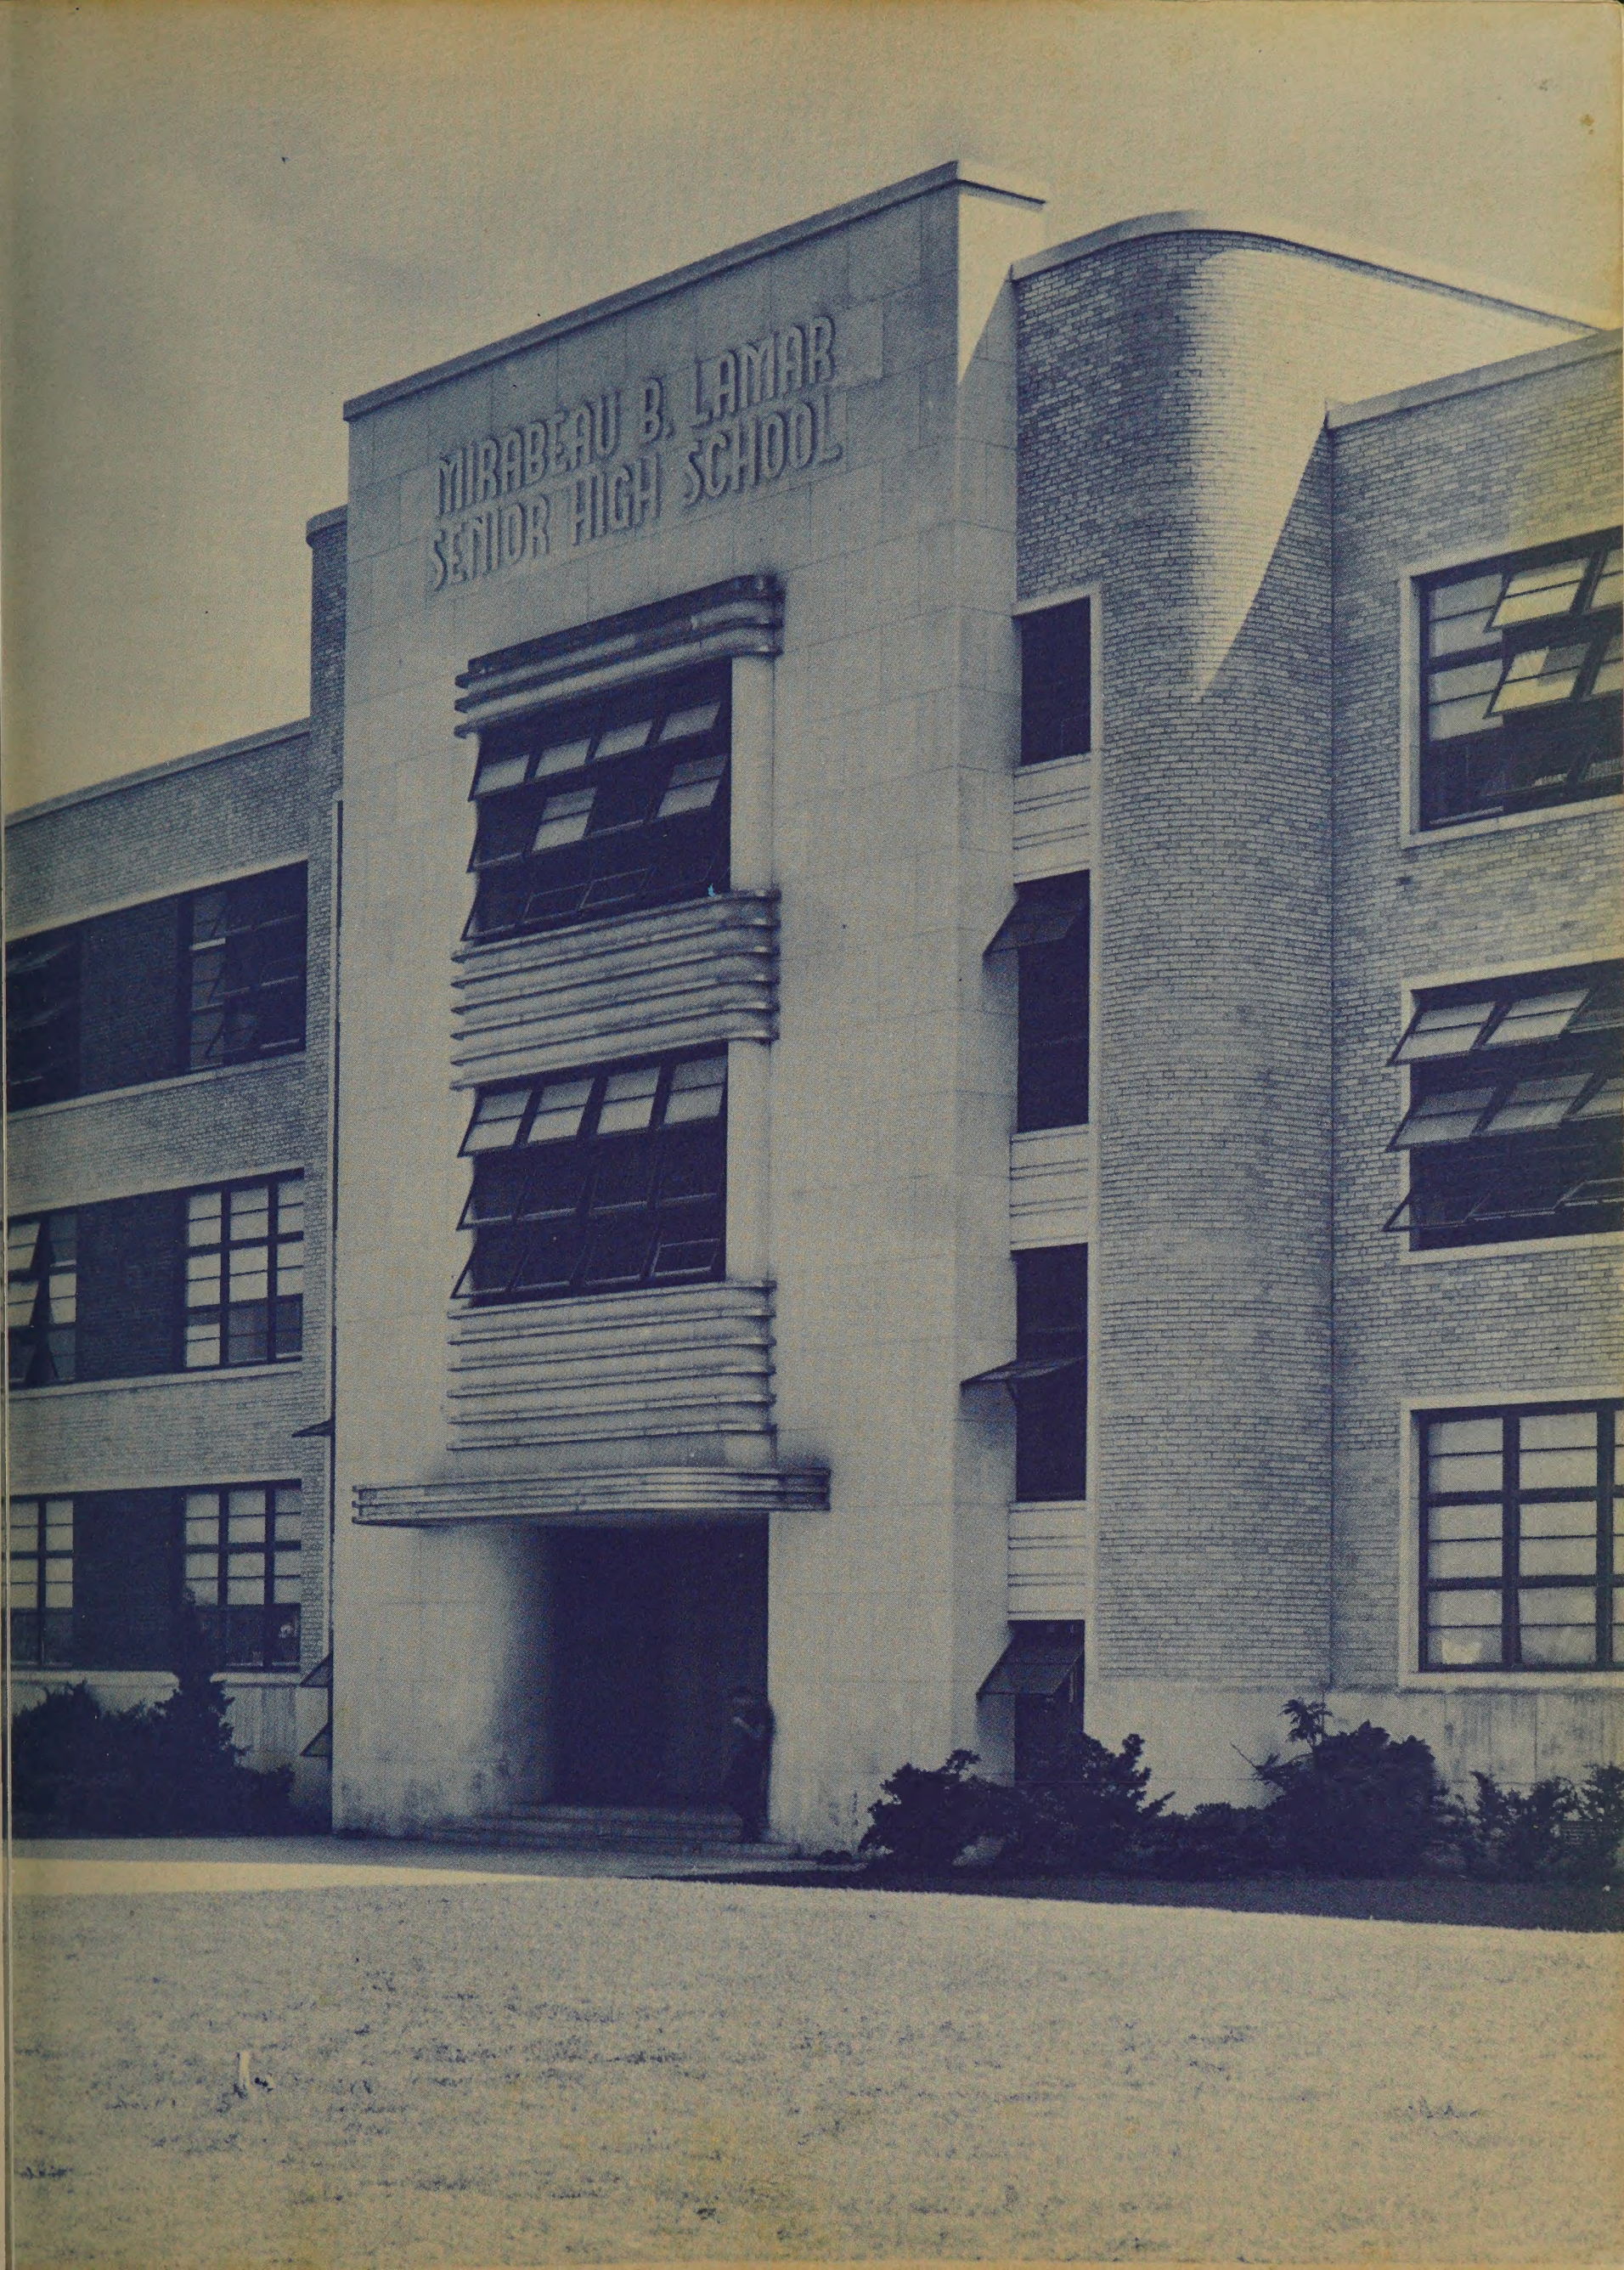

*May this volume of today
Carry debonair and gay
A friendly lilting way
To your Tomorrow.*

World of Tomorrow

Stimulated by the prevalent theme of the WORLD OF TOMORROW, the 1939 Orenda Staff deemed it pertinent to use in its art work the forward-looking note of TOMORROW. No better theme could they have chosen than: "A happier way of living through a recognition of the interdependence of men, and the building of a better WORLD OF TOMORROW with the tools of today."

Is it not true that we should focus our attention on the means of making the WORLD OF TOMORROW a better world than the world of today?

As a means to this end, TOMORROW calls upon us to renew our faith in education. Back in 1890, the Student of the little red schoolhouse dreamed not of the consolidated school of today, nor did that Student who walked miles each day have any idea that in less than a quarter of a century students would ride to school in a new and shining school bus.

Today American Education has a $10,000,000,000 plant, 1,500,000 employees, and a $2,500,000,000 budget. It ministers to 30,000,000 children. With these facts before us, the question may well be asked: Where do we go from here? The short answer is that the ends of education are to promote the ends of human life and of organized society. The ends of life and society are, in turn, individual happiness and the common good. The method of promoting them is to develop the moral character and the intellectual ability of the community.

Today none of us knows a tenth of the things that are known. The thought of TOMORROW will set before us many ideas for our imaginations to incubate. Now, the wisest students are stuffed with bits and jumbles of ill-adjusted knowledge, but it is not too much to anticipate a far clearer-headed boy and girl in the schools of TOMORROW. The school of TOMORROW will certainly be a world of intercommunicating individuals. Today is almost TOMORROW when it will be possible for teachers and pupils housed in buildings made of glass to sit in conference, seeing and hearing each other by radio, television, telephone, when, in fact, they are hundreds of miles apart. Methods will be designed to stimulate the minds of students and to promote and graduate students in terms of actual achievement rather than in terms of ability to master a teacher's habits.

There are big changes ahead for education. The schools look forward to an amazing future. Today there is an excess of materials, an excess of money, and an excess of man power. That means there are not enough projects to work on. New fields must be entered: men can't go on doing the same things they are doing now. Students of today must realize that the whole field of knowledge and achievement is ahead of them. Fortunately, they haven't learned that things can't be done. They aren't afraid of new ideas.

The Orenda Staff, therefore, believes that the Students whose school history is recorded in this volume will be able to meet the changes and difficulties of TOMORROW'S WORLD with a measure of equanimity, and courage, and with a capacity of self-discipline. Civilization is moving ahead and not even TOMORROW is the climax.

To Mr. William J. Moyes

We pay a just proof of our admiration and loyalty. Such richness of genius as he possesses does not often exist in a man. He is a learned and gracious scholar. Yet, he has common sense and logic, a faith in the laws of man, and a belief that experience must follow, not lead the laws of the mind. He has pluck, he dares to be of his own opinion, and he can say directly yes or no. He has a belief in the existence of two sides and the resolution to see fair play. His singular fairness and its results have made Lamar High School a pleasant place to live. Confident that no school has a better principal, the Students delight to bring to Lamar the victories which lie with the courage, strength, and endurance of the individual combatants.

MR.
PRINCIPAL
MIRABEAU B. LAMAR
HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Moyes finds his recreation in the garden. Among his favorite flowers are petunias, dahlias, and pansies. However, recently he has become interested in camellias and azaleas.

MR.
J. HERBERT WRIGHT
Assistant Principal
of
HIGH SCHOOL

Charming and energetic, Mr. Wright is always ready to help solve the problems of both teachers and students. He takes a keen interest in athletics and is enthusiastic over all student activities. He finds recreation in playing golf, in fishing, and in travelling.

To Mrs. Leavell the students may go for advice on programs, parties, and colleges.

The secretary is in demand both near and far: she makes reports, she answers calls; in fact, she does whatever befalls.

Absent or tardy, Mrs. Harrell knows the reason. No cuts are allowed, and there are no off-seasons.

Mrs. Ferrell, capable and dignified, has no difficulty in helping the students make their transfer from high school to college rapidly and effectively.

EMBRY

This is farewell to the Class of 1939—and a greeting to the Class of 1940.

The Senior Class leaves behind a record of scholarship, school loyalty, and honor.
It is to be hoped that the Class of 1940 will equal the fine record of the preceding class—and it is not amiss to say that every effort should be made to exceed that record.

CUNNINGHAM

MEREDITH

We are seniors to be. Let us endeavor to increase our scholastic standing, to strengthen our school loyalty, and to evidence a greater co-operation with our teachers and our fellow students.

One purpose of this club is to promote simple and gracious home entertainment where sharing ideas with each other is the ultimate aim rather than an endeavor to provide elaborate feast. Another purpose is an endeavor to understand ourselves as well as our fellow students that we may together achieve happy and useful lives. The third purpose of the club is to acquaint the members with the field of Home Economics, the specialized training required, and the qualities an individual needs for success.

THE OPEN FORUM

It is the purpose of the Open Forum to stimulate interest in current affairs. Strictly democratically controlled, the club is presided over each meeting by one of the twenty-eight members. The only permanent officer is the secretary, Martha McCollum.

THE DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Squad, whose duty it is to represent Lamar in the City Interscholastic Meet, attended many tournaments prior to that time at Austin, Waco, Houston, Yoakum and Beaumont in the spring of 1939. At the City Interscholastic Meet the boys' Debate Team, composed of James Winters and Quinnan Hodges, won first place and later advanced to the finals of the district meet. Charles Moskowitz took first place in the city and district meets in extemporaneous speaking.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra is indeed an organization of which Lamar is justly proud. This group has been kept quite busy all season appearing before many gatherings of various sorts: convention banquets, Parent-Teachers Meetings, our student body, other schools and in contests. In the contest they were rated first division.

First row: Ferguson, Thurman, Boynton, Conn, Burt, Gilbert, Leslie, Palasota, Zindler.

B A N D

Lamar High Band has become a vital part of student activities this year. Besides the usual appearances at athletic events, the band has taken part in public parades and has played before the student bodies of other schools as well as before our own. At the state contest the band won a third division rating.

INTERSCHOLASTIC WINNERS

Lamar Senior High School, entering the City Interscholastic League Contests for its second time, was named winner of the contest for the second consecutive year. Having won the contest with a total of 120 points, Lamar was presented with the Black Memorial Cup, which will remain in our trophy case for at least another year. Lamar also won the Vocational Arts Cup, and the Speech Arts Cup, both of which are new-comers to our trophy case. In competition with Houston's six other senior high schools, Lamar students demonstrated their prowess in scholastics by winning three of the four cups offered, a feat rarely accomplished by any school!

THE CHEROKEE CLUB

The Cherokee Club is an organization composed of all the girls in Lamar. Its purpose is to sponsor various intermural and intramural athletic activities in which each girl may participate. Points toward winning the awards given at the end of the school year are gained by participation and achievement in these tournaments. Each of the eight girls elected by the club as head of a major sport acts as student director in that sport.

Miss H. Stewart,
Lamar High School,
Houston, Texas

Dear Miss Stewart:

The photographs of your School beauties reached me safely and I have selected six of them as you suggested. In view of the general good looks of your students, I found it difficult to make this selection as the standard of beauty in Lamar High School is of a very high order.

The photographs are being returned to you today under separate cover by insured mail and I trust they will reach you in good condition.

Please convey my good wishes to the students and accept the same yourself.

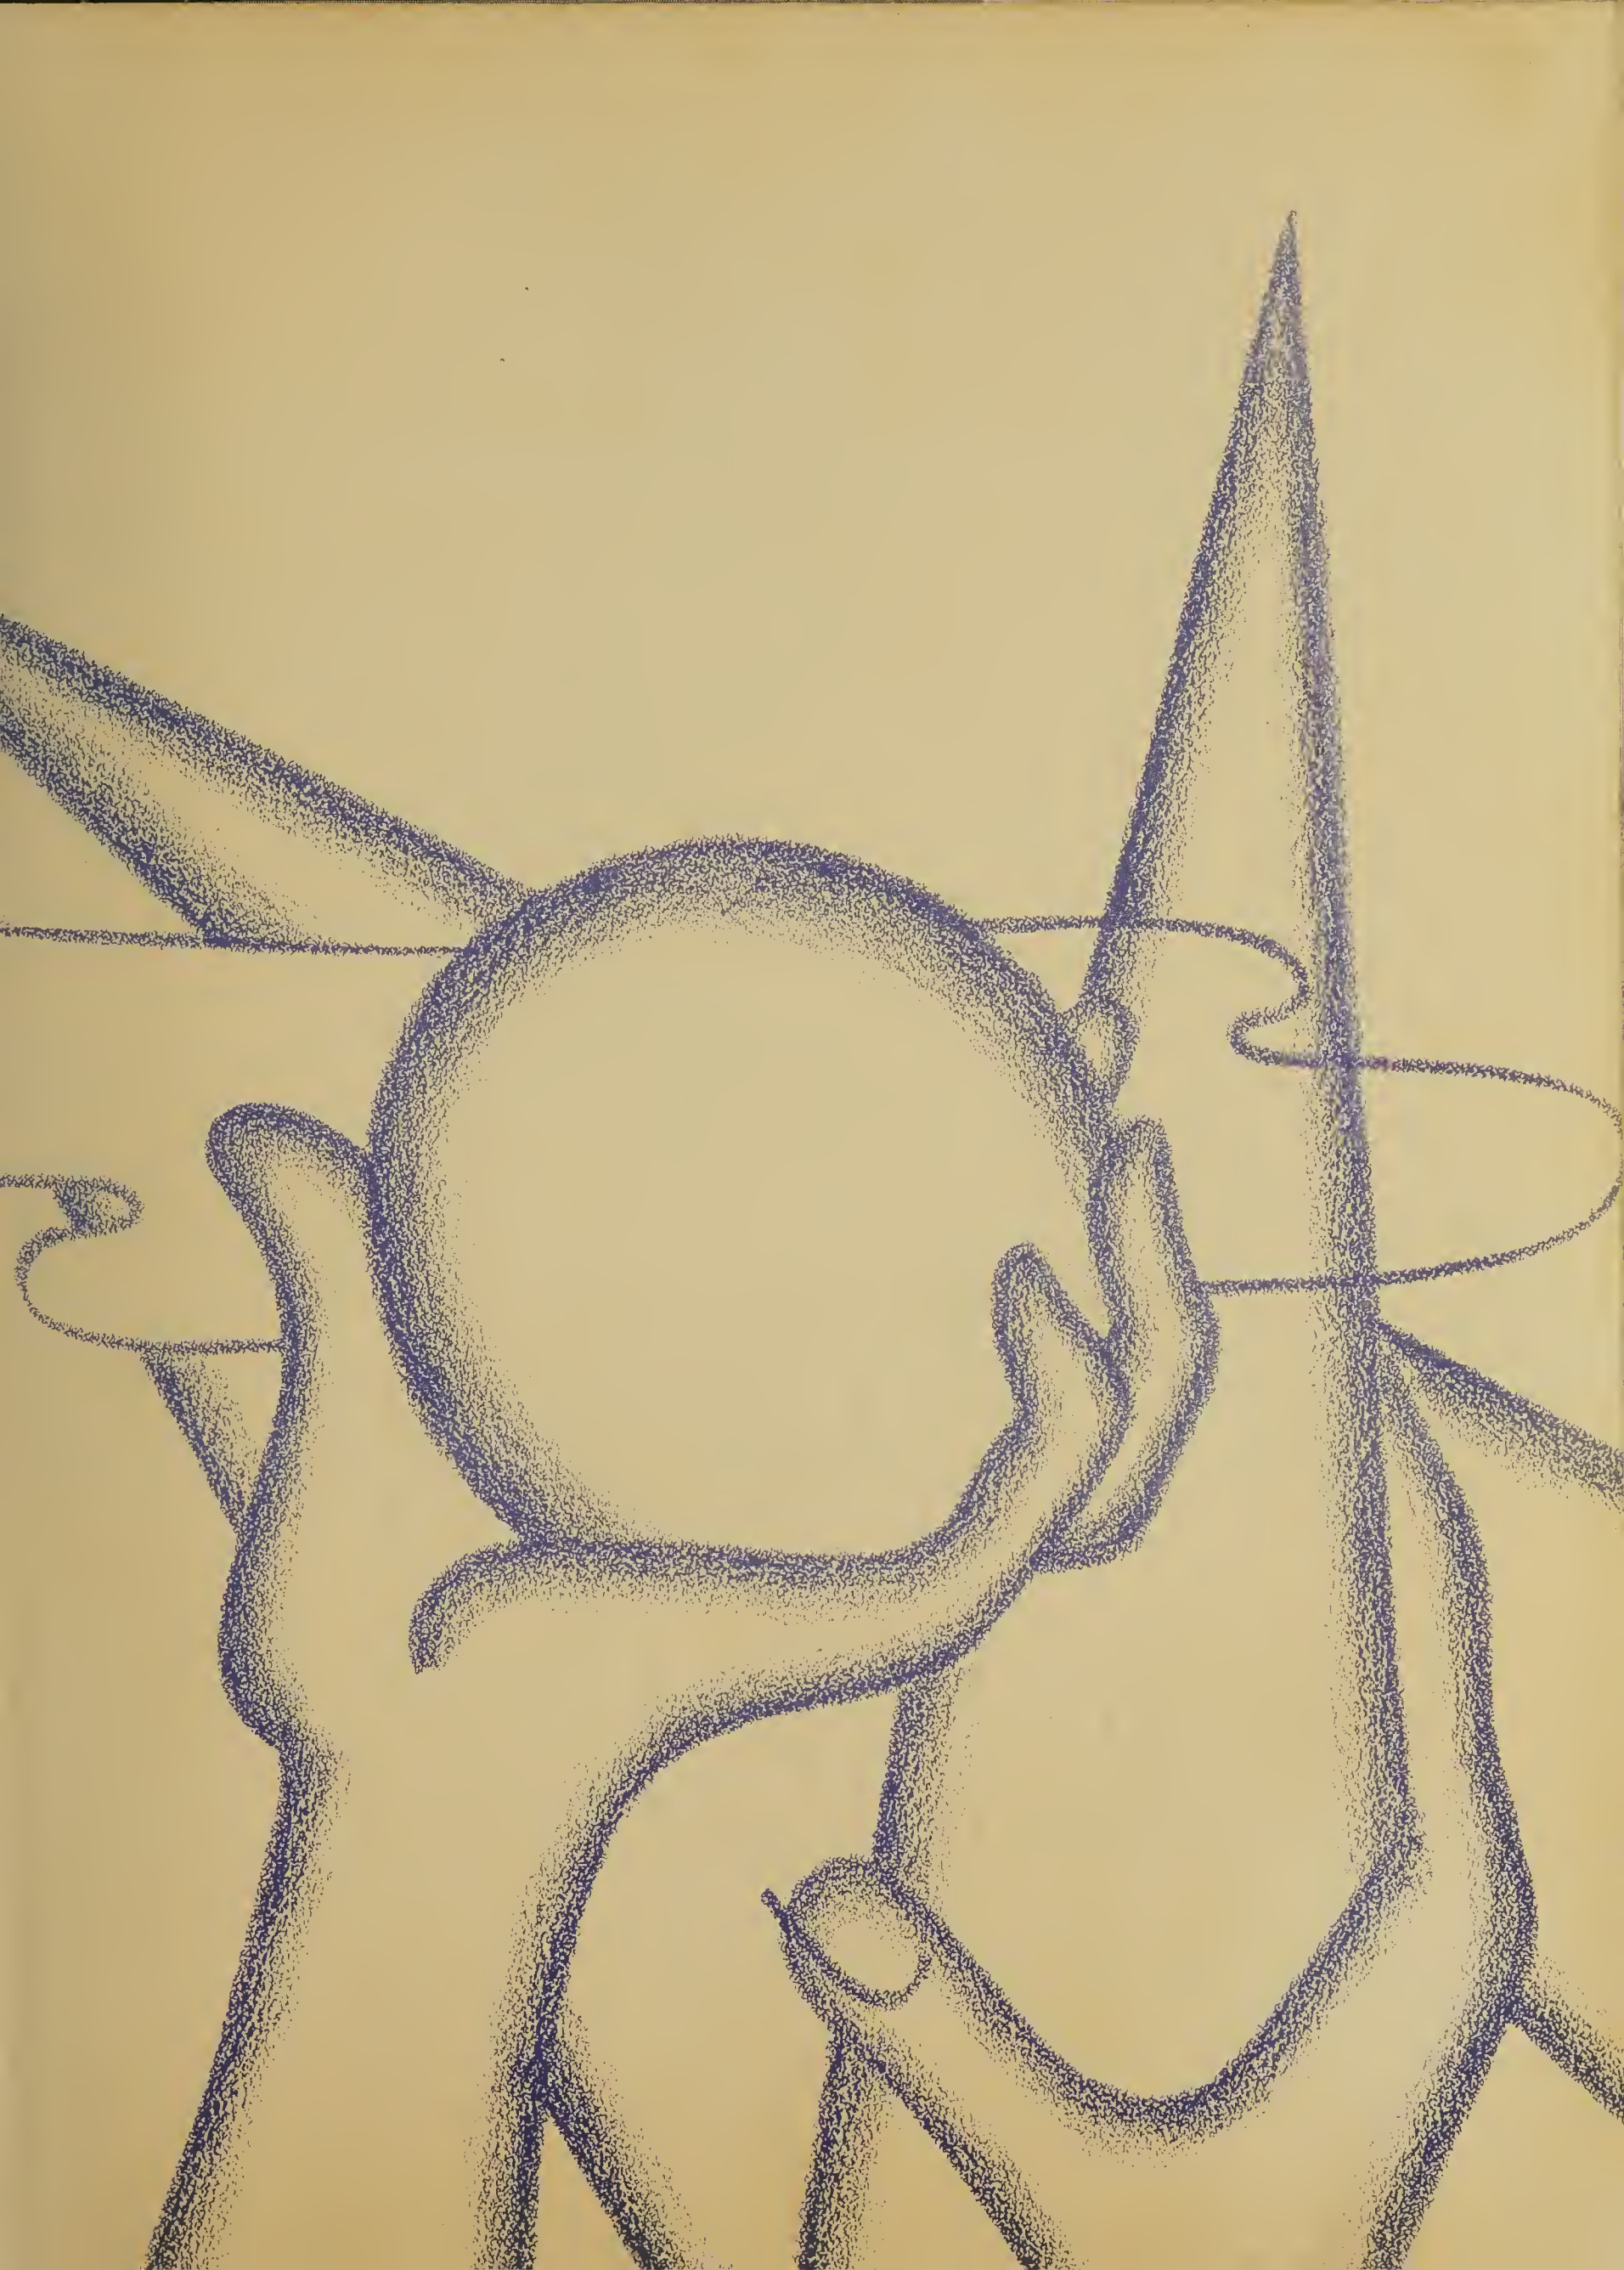

Yours sincerely,

TP/ES

EDITOR'S NOTE: The letter above explains the method of choosing this year's beauties. In addition to the first six, Mr. Power choose two runners-up who also appear in this section. Joyce Kimbell was runner-up to Mary Olivia Fuller, who will represent Lamar at the University of Houston Reception.

A PORTFOLIO OF PERSONALITIES

MARTHA RAY ALEXANDER

GLENN HEWITT

GRACE PICTON—Chosen by the faculty as Lamar's Most Representative Girl, Grace is a rare combination of beauty, talent, and intellect. She was the winner of the American Legion Medal in Lanier Junior High School; she was President of the Junior Class (1938). Last year she was one of Lamar's Beauties, and this year she is Princess in the Court of the May Queen. She is also a member of the Arrowheads.

MARTHA RAY ALEXANDER—Martha Ray received the distinction of being chosen the most outstanding student in the Art Department by her fellow classmates. This year, Martha Ray has served most capably as Art Editor of the Orenda. Last year, she was awarded a prize in the Poster Contest sponsored by the National Flower Show. When she was only fourteen, she won a scholarship to the Art School of the Houston Museum of Fine Arts.

GLENN HEWITT—One of the most outstanding athletes at Lamar this year has been Glenn Hewitt, of tennis fame. Glenn has succeeded in winning so many trophies that his family no longer has any need to buy silverware. To the accomplishments of Lamar, Glenn has added the City, District, and Regional Championships and is an odds on favorite to take the State Crown.

JAMES ERWIN
HAZEL MAE THICKSTUN

TOM HARDY

TOM HARDY—Elected Most Popular Boy by the students, and chosen Most Representative Boy by the faculty, Tom is also President of the Senior Class. He has served as Vice-President of the Student Council and has a remarkable record in football, basketball, and track. He won the American Legion Medal in Lanier Junior High School and is now a member of Lamar's Arrowhead Club, the honor society.

JAMES ERWIN—To the world of Lamar, James Erwin symbolizes photography. Without his work, both the Lancer and the Orenda would be far less rich in their pictorial sections. Generous and genial, James has made possible many of the photographic records of Life at Lamar.

HAZEL MAE THICKSTUN—In the home economics classes, Hazel Mae Thickstun has done more than merely meet the requirements of the department. She has won the admiration of her teachers and fellow students alike by her constant efforts to develop initiative, as well as stability, on the part of herself and her associates. In her field of work, Hazel Mae has distinguished herself as representative of her department and her school.

BETTY RUTH ROBBINS

MR. H. H. WRIGHT
DORIS ANNE ST. CLAIR

BETTY RUTH ROBBINS—Elected Most Popular Girl, Betty Ruth Robbins is also a talented musician. Charming and unaffected, she is generous with her talent. In 1938 and in 1939 she was pianist for the Lamar Frolics. She is composer of one of the school's favorite songs. Chairman of the Student Council Club Committee and a member of the Arrowhead Honor Society, her enviable academic record is well balanced by a gracious personality.

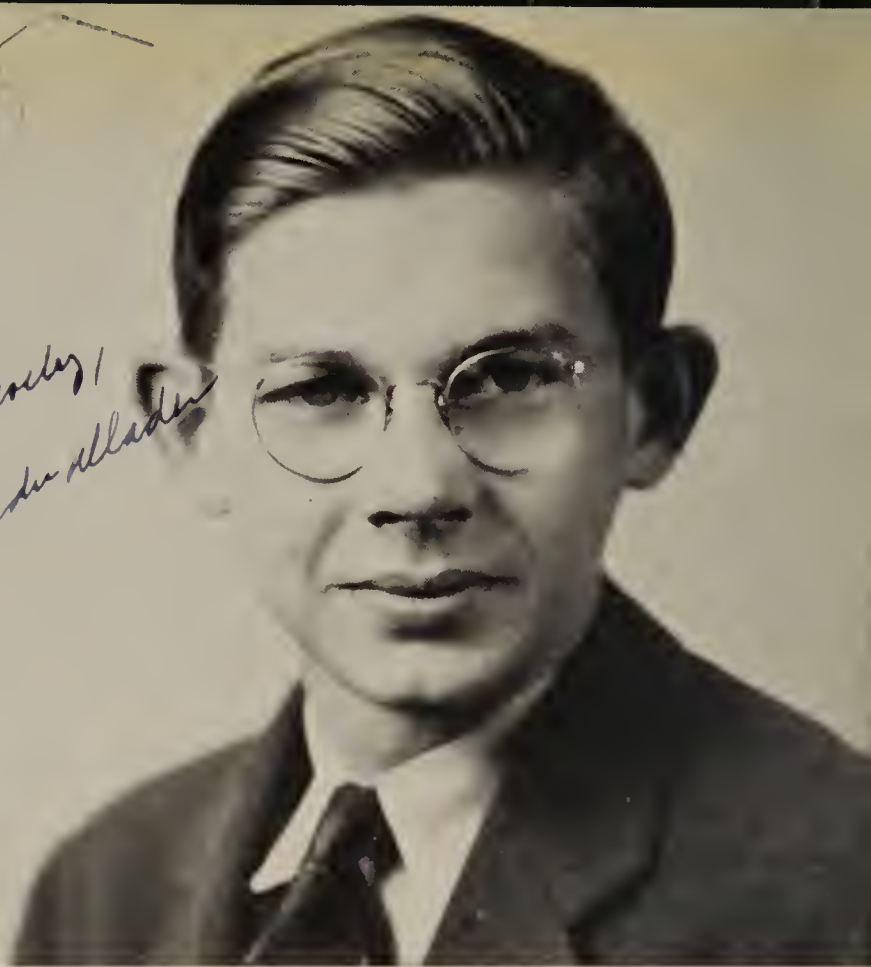

MR. H. H. WRIGHT—Not all the honors go to students at Lamar. Mr. H. H. Wright, who is in charge of the shop work, has found time in his vacations to make exceptionally interesting pieces of furniture. Among them is an inlaid table in which he has used over 2000 pieces of wood painstakingly collected from all parts of the world. The table is unusual not only because it is a beautifully constructed object, but because the pieces of wood themselves, in many cases, are historically significant.

DORIS ANNE ST. CLAIR—Perseverance and determination, an insatiable desire for knowledge, and a co-operative spirit are among the qualities that have given Doris Anne St. Clair an enviable place in the commercial department. In competition with students of Lamar and other schools, Doris Anne has demonstrated friendliness and modesty of manner that has brought her the warm esteem of those with whom she has worked. In scholastic competition, she has excelled also and ranks among those making all A's.

*Sincerely,
Oscar Cadwallader*

JESS BESSINGER

ANN TUCK

OSCAR CADWALLADER

JESS BESSINGER—A voice rich in dulcet tones, a head shapely and Apollo-like, belong to Jess Bessinger. In mastering the histrionic art, he has already gone far. A winner of the American Legion Medal in junior high school, he also had his first taste of acclaim in acting there. He carried the lead and was proclaimed outstanding boy actor in the Regional winning play, "The Shoes That Danced." He won the French Award at the State Contest. As Petruchio, in "The Taming of The Shrew," he won highest praise. The Houston Little Theater has recently commandeered his services for "Brother Rat." For radio work, he is eagerly sought. Lately, in city-wide competition he was awarded the leading role in a radio serial, "The Reader Family." Jess is president of Arrowhead, a signal honor.

OSCAR CADWALLADER—An amazing flare for the use of words in their explicit nicety and their rich color, Osear Cadwallader has attained the foremost position in Lamar's Speech Arts Department. As a debater of power since his junior high school days, he won the Hugh Potter Award in 1938. In the literary field, he has also excelled. He has served as Editor of the Lancer and is now Assistant Editor of the Orenda. With a facile mind and a ready tongue, he wins consistently in extemporaneous speaking. Arrowhead counts him a valuable member.

ANN TUCK—To Ann Tuck goes the honor of being the Top Ranking Student in the 1939 graduating class of Lamar High School. Pretty, popular, friendly, Ann is admired by everyone. She is Circulation Manager of the Orenda, Treasurer of the Arrowhead Club, and an active member of the Junior Classical League.

SPORTS

L A M A R C O A C H E S

The three generals of Lamar's athletic department found their second venture into the inter-scholastic wars under the red and blue flag a decided improvement over their first. In fact, Ed Duggan, Donald Longcope, and Hal Mickelson may well be pleased with their teams' showings this year. Mr. Duggan, head football coach, and Mr. Mickelson, line coach, while not able to boast of a championship football team, may certainly claim credit for having had a good team. This team finished three places higher than the team of the first year and since Mr. Duggan's system is now more firmly implanted, it is hoped that the improvement will continue.

Coach Duggan is the most experienced member of the coaching staff and has made a notable record with his teams. Before coming to Lamar, Mr. Duggan coached at Sam Houston and his teams were always near the top. Whether his teams win or lose, he commands the respect and friendship of all the boys who play under him, which is, after all, the real measure of a coach's success.

Donald Longcope, basketball coach, another member of Lamar's coaching staff, is probably the happiest of all. He has a good reason too, for his basketball team had a very fine season. To be exact it won the city and district Championships and the Houston Invitation Tournament. Yes, Mr. Longcope is a happy man.

Before coming to Lamar, Mr. Longcope coached at Sidney Lanier Junior High School. Since coming to Lamar Mr. Longcope has turned out two fine teams. The first year the team tied for third place, and this year it won the Championship. With a fine crop of boys coming up next year, the chances are excellent that Lamar will win again. But whether they do or not, they will be in there fighting for Mr. Longcope, because he is admired and liked by his boys.

Mr. Mickelson, football line coach and head track coach, also hails from Sam Houston. Mr. Mike is greatly liked by all the boys and is an excellent coach. This isn't surprising when you consider that he was quite an athlete himself, making the All-Conference Football Team in 1932 while playing at Rice.

CO - CAPTAINS

Donald Puntch, co-captain of the Lamar football team this year, was one of the best and most popular players Lamar had. Donald played at the left half-back position and really turned in a fine job. He was a good runner, a fine punter and an excellent blocker and tackler. However, it was his passing ability which earned him the majority of his fame. In this department Donald was hard to beat and his passes added much strength to the team.

Billy Thompson, the other co-captain of the team, played in the line at the tackle position. Billy, as you would find out if you talked to the players, was probably the most consistent player in the line. He always turned in a fine game, whether it was spectacular or not. As a blocker, Billy was one of the best on the team and his tackling was even better. Like Donald, Billy was very popular with the boys for he not only was a good football player, but a fine fellow as well.

GOEHRS

MANAGERS

Robert Goehrs, one of the two football managers, was another boy who really worked hard for the team. He helped Norman take care of the equipment and was a great boon to the players, because of his ability to treat minor cuts and injuries.

Norman Woodruff, the other football manager, worked probably as hard as any boy out for the team. It was his job to keep the equipment and boys in good condition and the results he gave would be hard to beat. Although he was not a player, Norman certainly deserved his letter.

LINN COOPER—The young man who had a sore throat to accompany his other injuries after each football game last season was stocky quarterback, Linn Cooper. All opponents recognized Linn as the team's most outstanding blocking backfield man, for when he hit a man, the man usually stayed hit. Linn will be back next year, but he will be ineligible to play football next season.

HARRY DAWSON—"Dirty" was little, but every pound of his sturdy body had power equivalent to a pound of T.N.T. He was one of the speediest, yet toughest guards in the city, having played a grand brand of ball his junior year. He will be sorely missed at his position next year.

DAVID EMBRY—One of the best prospects in the backfield next year is fast and elusive David Embry. When David is in his best form, there is not a back in the city who can surpass his drive and broken-field running. David shall surely give his opponent a great deal of trouble next year.

CARY FARROW—Cary was converted from halfback to end at the beginning of last season. Cary was very tough on end-about runs, and seldom missed a tackle. Cary also gave his teammate halfbacks sturdy blocking when they decided to run a play in the vicinity of his left end position. Cary also had the credit of being one of the hardest tacklers on the Redskin team.

RONALD FEATHERSTONE—One of the most dangerous of all the rampaging Redskins of last fall was likable Ronald Featherstone. Ronald displayed drive that has not been surpassed here since Ceeil Isbell, another college star produced by Coach Duggan, galloped on local gridirons. Ronald is one of the best punters, and line-plungers that Lamar will produce in a great many years.

CHARLES GIBSON—Charlie, a hold-over from last year, showed a great deal of hustle at his quarterback position. Due to his largeness and speed, he made an ideal line-backer. Charlie has just recently left Lamar, with two stripes upon his sleeve, which he had surely well-earned.

TOM HARDY—Tom Hardy, the hustling halfback, is probably the most outstanding athlete the Redskins will have for a long time. Tom had more drive than any one back except for his red-headed teammate, Ronald Featherstone. Tom also excelled in passing, punting, and line-plunging. Tom not only shines on the gridiron, but in the classroom as well.

JIM JAPHET—Jimmy, the heaviest man on the team, started the season in a great style, but due to injuries was missing from the lineup in the last few games. Jim, when he wanted to play ball, could not be out-classed in his starting left-tackle berth. He completed his eligibility last year.

WAYNE KINSER—Wayne, a hip-slinging halfback of the past two years, was as shifty and as fast as any man in the backfield. He was rather weak on defense, but played a bang-up game on offense. Wayne was hustling all the time, the fact which had much to do in earning him a letter.

"DUGGAN" MACANLISS—"Duggan" was understudy at the center slot lastseason to his robust team mate Fred Walker. Due to Fred's injury, Duggan saw considerable service throughout the season. Duggan was probably more accurate on his passing than any other center, and he had the fire and endurance so necessary to a center. He is a senior and will graduate.

BILL MILEY—Bill, the tree-top Redskin who played a wing position last year, was six feet, three inches tall. This height was a great advantage, and yet it was sometimes a handicap. He seemed to snag a pass when needed most, and also broke up many an opponent's long potential gain by his interceptions.

ALFRED MURRAY—The surprise sophomore "rookie" of last season was youthful Alfred Murray. Murray showed such favorable ability at the close of the year that Coach Duggan could not help from lettering him. Alfred loved the game when it was the roughest and was always fighting hard. He will be the Redskins' "utility man" next fall, playing everything but backfield positions.

BILLY PAXTON—Billy, substitute tackle, showed much deception the latter part of the season when he filled in the position left vacant by the injured Japhet. Billy gave his teammates as fine blocking as could be expected from any tackle. He had a fine spirit, which added much to the team.

DONALD PUNTCH—The young man who sparked the Lamar team last season with his superb passing and punting was Donald Punteh. A great deal of needed yardage was gained by Punteh's excellent passing. At the close of the football year, Donald showed a great improvement in his defensive abilities, on which he received much favorable comment from the local sport writers.

BURLEIGH SANFORD—The substitute fullback for Featherstone was handsome Burleigh Sanford. Though Burleigh did not have the weight, he had plenty of the fight and drive so needed by a fullback. He is ineligible next year, due to the age limit rule.

WALLACE SCHERWITZ—Wallace showed more drive than any of the substitute backs of the last season. The touchdowns scored by this young man proportional to the amount of time he played is amazing. Wallace showed such ability as a halfback last season that he is sure to obtain this wing-back position next fall.

MIKE SCHRECKENBACH—The streak of lightning the spectators saw cross the enemy's goal line so often last year was Mike Schreckenbach. When Mike ever got in an open field, there was no stopping him. On these long spectacular runs for touchdowns, Mike not only bolstered the score but also the team's fighting spirit. Mike will be eligible next year.

JERRY SPARKMAN—Jerry, a redheaded end, proved last year that his game is as good-looking as he himself is. Jerry is a nifty pass-snatcher and a hard end to run around. He has lettered two previous years and is due to start at a wing position next fall.

CHARLES STEFFLER—Another starting guard whom Lamar will miss next year is Charles Steffler. Charlie was born with the natural ability to play football, as his high school record clearly shows. He is always fighting when the going is the toughest, and due to such fire, he has had a starting guard post for the last two years.

BILLY THOMPSON—Billy, who was Lamar's starting right tackle last season, showed much deception at his tough position. Billy received much acclaim from all opponents when asked their opinion of the season's co-captain. He was very elusive and fast, probably two reasons he received the captainship. He completed his eligibility last fall.

REX TRAVIS—Rex, who earned himself an "all-city" end position last season, is one of the city's most stable and hustling wing men. Rex not only blocked well but tackled hard with the same precision and ability. He will be back next year, and you will probably see his name on the "all-city" selection again.

FRED WALKER—"Iceman" was one of the roughest and ablest centers in the city last fall. Fred had an uncanny ability of analyzing plays, and because of this favorable trait was usually on the bottom of every pile-up. Because of a very painful injury, Fred had a serious handicap, but continued to play the whole season.

BOBBY YERKES—Coach Mickelson didn't discover Bobby's ability at the guard position until the season got well under way. Bobby was shifted from halfback, where he had played a good brand of ball the year before. Bobby was fast on his feet and very aggressive. The team next year will miss such fighters as Bob, who graduates this year.

WALTER VOLKMAN—"Foots" was a substitute guard this season who has the ability to play any line position if he cares to. Walter showed much deception in his blocking and tackling throughout the season and loved to play the gridiron game. He is a junior and should cinch a starting position next fall.

THROUGH THE MEGAPHONE

With a hep! hep! Lamar's cheer leaders lined up for a football season noted for its improved school spirit and splendid student support. A birds' eye view from the grandstands showed an untiring bunch of pep booster-uppers, who were always ready to cheer for a touchdown or to shout encouragement to a losing team.

GRACE PICTON—Grace, who had heretofore been thought of in connection with leading the Student Council, proved herself a natural at leading the Redskins in war whoops.

BETTY JO TOMFORDE—Having been a cheer leader last year, Betty Jo was an old-timer at the business of keeping the stands on their toes.

HESTER STEWART—Hester, like Betty Jo, was an experienced leader, having served last year. With this second year's experience she combined a first year enthusiasm which really brought out the cheers.

LAVERN PASS—LaVern with his vitality kept his section co-operative and cheering constantly.

MAURICE THOMASON—"Greasy" saw his first season at cheer leading and proved himself to be a peppy yellor until a broken ankle put him in the bleachers to do his part.

BOB SHEPHERD—Although Bob was only a sophomore, he was elected to the cheer leader's position and proved that the "sophs" had a capable booster.

GAMES

The Lamar eleven of 1938, nick-named the "Rampaging Redskins" early in the season by local sport writers because of the vast array of excellent material included on the Lamar squad, lost a small number of games compared to the losses of the preceding season. The Red and Blue machine lost four games, while all other games were won by scores of most one-sided type. A Redskin defeat at the hands of the Austin Mustangs resulted in the loss of Lamar's most important bid for the championship.

Throughout, the football season was one of surprises. The season opened with the Lamar Redskins, odds-on-favorites. The first three games played, their opponents, Milby, St. Thomas, and San Antonio Tech, were snowed under beneath mountainous scores. The next game Lamar met its old South-end rival, the San Jacinto Bears. The great San Jacinto line was too great for the Indians that night, causing them to get their first taste of defeat to the tune of 14-0. The defeat did not stop the smooth working Red and Blue eleven; it strengthened it. To further prove this statement they buried under Sam Houston, 32-0, after a bitter fight, and decidedly defeated Jeff Davis 27-18. This left Lamar tied with two other teams, Conroe and Austin, for first place. The team was defeated by Austin 15-7 in one of the hardest fought games that gridiron spectators will see for a long time. Coaches Duggan and Mickelson then gathered up some promising Juniors and Sophomores and traveled to Galveston, where these future stars swamped Kirwin High, 31-6. The team's next rival happened to be the future district-champion Reagan Bulldogs. It was a rough and hard-played game, but the Reagan team eked out a 19-12 victory. In concluding the season, the Indians were badly defeated by Coach Joe Lagow's co-city-champion Conroe club, by the score of 21-0.

The Lamar eleven of 1939 will be seriously hit by the absence of many of the veteran stars who appeared in the 1938 squad, but will be strengthened by a flock of prospective gridiron stars, some of whom showed brilliant form in games during the past season.

G A M E S

The first game which Lamar played this season was against Bryan High School at Bryan. Playing on one of the finest gyms that the team saw all season, Lamar defeated Bryan 45-18. Although this game had no real significance, being just a warm up game, it served notice to all that Lamar would be tough in the city competition.

Lamar's next competition was gained in the Humble Tournament. In the meet Lamar beat Galena Park in the first round and then went down under a fighting Milby team in the semi-finals.

On January 1, Lamar went to San Antonio for the Annual Invitation Meet held there. There Lamar ran through San Antonio Tech, Austin and Sam Houston and then in the finals against Davis, blew a 10-point lead and lost by a score of 23 to 20.

After returning from San Antonio, Lamar engaged in its first city contest. This game was played at Lamar against John Reagan. The game was a hard fought one throughout, but Lamar finally won 26-20.

Two days after this game Lamar played its nemesis of the San Antonio Tournament, Jeff Davis, and again Davis had what it took, namely a big height advantage and Lamar lost 37 to 31.

Rebounding from this defeat, Lamar entered the Houston Invitation Tournament loaded for bear. In its first game Lamar beat Jefferson High School of San Antonio 39-28. In its next game Lamar routed the highly rated Livingston Lions 32-27 and then went on to defeat Cushing 36-31. In the finals Lamar met Jeff Davis and the third time proved to be the charm as the Redskins won 26-24 and took the championship of the tournament.

After the tournament, Lamar again returned to the city wars and won victories in the following fashion: against Sam Houston Lamar won 36-24; against Milby 38-24; against Austin 34-15; and against San Jacinto 55-35.

With the winning of the San Jacinto game, Lamar advanced into the play-off round against the other top three teams of the city.

In its first game, Lamar lost a heartbreaking decision to Jeff Davis 34-32, but the Redskins were not dismayed and in their second and third round matches against Milby and Reagan won by scores of 29-26 and 28-17 respectively. These victories put Lamar into the finals against Jeff Davis. This time Lamar really went to town and slaughtered Davis 37-19. Everyone had thought that the winner of that game would be the city champs, but those in charge decided that Lamar had to play Davis again. In that game Lamar defeated Davis in a close game 22-19 and was pronounced city champion.

On the following day Lamar journeyed to Galveston to play in the District Play-offs held there.

In its first game on Friday afternoon Lamar ran over Texas City 60-23. That night Lamar played Ball High and won 36-19. This victory put Lamar into the finals of the District Championship against Robert E. Lee. Playing its sixth game in five days, a weary but victory bound Lamar team again came through and defeated Robert E. Lee 20-17.

After a week's rest, Lamar again took the road, its next step being Huntsville where the Regional Play-offs were held. In its first game Lamar beat Port Arthur 33-22. This put Lamar into the finals against the Livingston Lions and defeat finally caught up with the Redskins. Livingston that night had the "Indian sign" on Lamar in the form of Foster Bullock who made 16 points and inspired his team to make 25 more; enough to trample Lamar 41-28.

This defeat brought Lamar's very successful season to a close. Livingston, incidentally, went on to win the State Championship at Austin.

BASKETBALL LETTERMEN

JOHN BAKER—John, one of the substitutes, performed in excellent fashion whenever he got the opportunity to get in a game. John played guard and got to be a very adept ball handler. Not only was he a good floor man, but he also could match shots with the best of them. He is a Junior and will see plenty of service next year.

E. A. BARKER—E. A., who was one of the fastest boys on the team, is another substitute of this year who will be counted upon heavily next year. He is not only very fast and hard fighting, but he is also tall. A combination of height and speed is one that is hard to beat, and for that reason E. A. should be a distinct asset to the team next year.

BUCK CRATE—Buck, who had the distinction of being the only player on the Lamar team to play three years of high school basketball, was the smoothest and most valuable defensive player on the team. Playing at guard, Buck served as captain of the team during the first half of the season and his guarding and all-round fine floor play were a pleasure to behold. The loss of his services at mid-term was a real blow to the Lamar cause.

RAYMOND DANIELS—Red Dog, as he is known, made quite a name for himself when the team played for the District Championship at Galveston. Red was always a good shot, but there he was really hot. It seemed as if every time he shot the ball, he connected and he made such a hit with the fans there that they cheered wildly every time Mr. Longcope sent Red into the game.

LLOYD GREGORY—Lloyd, "the Judge," Gregory was second only to Sehlabach in the substitute role. Playing at forward, Lloyd saw quite a lot of service this year and improved with every game. Although many contend that Lloyd's style is unorthodox, no one can deny that he gets results. He is a good shooter and has lots of hustle. Since he was only a Junior this year, he will have another opportunity to play next year and he is almost a cinch to be one of the starting five at that time.

TOM HARDY—Tom, who also played guard, was a real hustler. Always the fighter, Tom was the best player on the team at intercepting opponents' passes and breaking up their attack. He was a real "money player" too, and his baskets always seemed to come when they were needed most. As an inspiration to the fighting spirit of the team, it would be hard to overestimate Tom's ability.

JIMMY HARING—Jimmy was another able substitute who saw much service. He was one of the very few tall boys on the squad and his follow-up shots were always an asset to the team. Although Jimmy didn't see a great deal of service during the early part of the season, he got to play a lot during the latter half, especially at Huntsville, where the regional playoffs were held. There he played about half of the game against the State Champion Livingston Lions.

WELDON MALLETTE—Weldon, "Pretty Boy," Mallette was the real backbone of Lamar's fast breaking offense. He was the best shot on the team and, many thought, the best in the city. Like Hardy, Weldon was a fighter. When he and another player went after the ball, you could almost count on Weldon getting it. As a dribbler, Weldon was in a class by himself. If he made up his mind to dribble around a guard, he did just that, and it seemed as if no one could do much about it. Incidentally, Weldon was chosen on all three of Houston's All City Teams and he certainly deserved it.

DONALD PUNTCH—Donald, who teamed with Mallette at the forward posts, was an outstanding performer all season. Like Mallette, he was a "dead eye" and was the only player on the team whom Coach Longcope allowed to shoot "long shots." It is significant to note that Lamar was not put out of the state race until the regional playoffs with Livingston, at which time Donald was sick and unable to play.

EDGAR SCHLABACH—If you want to know how good Edgar is, don't ask Edgar. Schlabach is so modest that he'd have everyone believe that he was really the water boy and not what he actually was: the most played substitute on the team. Ask any of the boys on the squad about Schlabach and they'll tell you that he was the hardest working, most conscientious player out for the team. Edgar will play next year and if you don't know which one he is, just look for the boy on the floor who is fighting the hardest and that will be Edgar.

HOWARD THOMPSON—Affectionately termed "Peanuts" by the members of the team, Howard is an outstanding example of what hustle and fight can do for an athlete. Although smaller than any member of the first string team, Howard was easily one of the most valuable players on the team. Although he played forward, he broke up more plays than any other man, with the possible exception of Hardy. On the offense he was even more valuable, as he was capable of getting "hot" any time. When he did, it was curtains for the opposing team, for he could really bombard the hoop.

HARRY VAN WAGNER—Although Harry didn't see a lot of service this year, he certainly deserved his letter. He worked hard all year in practice and really supported the team. During the San Antonio Tournament, Harry was not chosen as one of those to go, but, because he was so interested in the team, he hitch-hiked all the way there. A team spirit such as that is always appreciated.

CLIFTON WILSON—One of the most outstanding centers of last season was speedy "Buster Keaton" Wilson. Wilson was the anchor-man on defense, and one of the most consistent on offense of all the Lamar "Jitterbugs." Clifton demonstrated his ability so well in passing, dribbling, and shooting that he earned himself an "all-city" position on all local newspapers.

DUDLEY WRIGHT—Dudley, playing second fiddle to Crate until mid-term, came up with such a rush during the last part of the season that he made two of Houston's three All City Teams. Dudley was the tallest member of the team this year and was the only player who could be counted on to consistently get the ball off the backboard. Aside from this very valuable asset, Dudley was an excellent shot, having one of the finest one-handed push shots in the city. He is the only player on Lamar's starting team who has another year of basketball to play and he will undoubtedly be the backbone of Lamar's team next year.

ROGER SMITH—Roger, a first string forward during the first month of basketball, fell victim to a very bad piece of luck when he broke his wrist. Being unable to play, he was put in charge of the equipment and general management of the team. At this position Roger rendered a great service to the team, and although he was unable to play in the games, his assistance as a manager was invaluable.

HOUSTON INVITATION TOURNAMENT

Returning from a very successful campaign in the San Antonio Invitation Meet, the Lamar Redskins promptly entered another big tournament, the Houston Invitation Tourney, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. At San Antonio, Lamar had enjoyed remarkable success. There it mowed down all opponents until it reached the finals, when a strong Jeff Davis team nosed out Lamar by a margin of three points.

Lamar, however, was due for a big measure of revenge. The Redskins entered the Houston Tournament seeded fourth, being ranked below Cushing, Jeff Davis and Livingston. In its first game, played on Friday night of January 13, Lamar met Jefferson High School of San Antonio. The final score was Lamar 39, Jefferson 28. However it was not until the following day that Lamar really reached its peak. At 10:30 a.m. on Saturday morning, Lamar took on the Livingston Lions, a team which later won the state championship. Again Lamar's efforts were crowned with success. Although the game was a hard fought one and Livingston led most of the way, Lamar managed to spurt at the last and gained a 32 to 27 advantage. The game ended with that score and Lamar moved into the semi-finals against Cushing, the first ranked team of the meet. Few people really expected Lamar to win this game with Cushing which was played Saturday afternoon. In fact, one Cushing fan was so sure of his team's victory that he offered to buy every player on the Lamar team a chicken dinner if Lamar should win. This man, incidentally, was nowhere to be found an hour later when Lamar had just emerged winner again, defeating Cushing 36 to 31. This victory was especially sweet, for at this time most of the sports writers were hailing Cushing as the strongest team in the state.

This victory enabled Lamar to again take on its arch rival, Jeff Davis. Playing its third game of that same day, Lamar outgamed Davis 26 to 24 and emerged victor and champion of the tournament. This was another "sweet" victory, for Davis had twice before come out on top in games with the Redskins.

Lamar will enter the Houston Tournament next year as the defending champions. It is hoped that Lamar will again be crowned champion.

 Woodruff.

TRACK

Hal Mickelson's track team had many outstanding performers this year. This mild statement is borne out by the achievements at the Conroe Track Meet where Meredith James (five feet eight) managed a winning jump of six feet, and the relay team of Schreckenbach, Scherwitz, Wilhile, and Hardy was outstanding.

Since that time the track team entered the San Jacinto Invitation Meet, the City eliminations, and the District Meet, making a fine showing in each.

Before the close of the season, Lamar will enter athletes in the Regional Eliminations, and, perhaps, some of our boys will qualify for the State Meet in Austin. This is surely a possibility since such fine athletes as Tom Hardy, Jim Japhet, Wallace Scherwitz, and those on the mile relay are still not eliminated.

Lamar spends a great part of its time on the stage. The Interscholastic League play this year was lavish, beautiful. A real fountain splashed, a tree drooped over a garden bench, and Love won the beautiful Princess from the clutches of Sorrow.

An Open Letter To Lamar Students

Dear Boys and Girls:

Houston, Texas, June, 1939

Whether your next step takes you to college or out into the business world, may good health, good fortune and success walk hand in hand with you throughout all the years of your lives.

You are fortunate to be living in an age that will record greater economic and geographic changes than any other since our country was founded.

The world of science and of business, of religion and of sociology beckons to you with more abundant rewards than your forefathers ever dreamed they could obtain.

It is the sincere hope of this institution that each and every graduating student of '39 may find his rightful place in life, and thus carve a name for himself or herself in such a measure as to make every parent justly proud.

Sincerely yours
